9. The Debtor has incurred substantial post-petition liabilities. As of October 31, 2010, the Debtor owed $432,672.18 in accounts payables; of this amount, $279,502.89 is greater than 91 days old.

10. Of these post-petition liabilities, $96,744.97 is owed to either federal or state taxing authorities. Per its October 31, 2010 operating report, the Debtor owes $89,802.97 to the Internal Revenue Service and $6,942 to state taxing authorities. The IRS has filed a request for payment of $83,136.01 for post-petition FICA taxes incurred after the filing of the case. [Claim 89-2]. Similarly, the State of Wisconsin Department of Revenue has filed a request for payment of $12,137.98 for withholding taxes incurred post-petition. [Claim 93-1].

11. The Debtor owes substantial post-petition debt to its principal Peter Morris, who transferred $411,069 to the Debtor between January and October 2010. Per its October

2010 operating report, the Debtor still owes $384,969 in post-petition loans to Mr. Morris. These transfers are summarized below:

Legal Analysis and Argument

General discussion of burdens when conversion is sought:

12. Under section 1112(b), the Court “the court shall convert a case under this chapter to a case under chapter 7 or dismiss a case under this chapter, whichever is in the best interests of creditors and the estate, if the movant establishes cause.” 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(1).

Diminution of assets of the estate with no hope of reorganization

13. Cause exists to convert this case because of diminution of the estate and the absence of a reasonable likelihood of rehabilitation. 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(4)(A). In determining whether to dismiss or convert a case under § 1112(b)(4)(A), the court should

1) examine the Debtor's prior financial record to determine if it is profitable or losing money and 2) determine whether rehabilitation is likely given the evidence presented. In re Gateway Access Solutions, Inc., 374 B.R. 556, 562 (Bankr. M.D. Pa. 2007). Information relevant to this analysis includes whether the debtor has borrowed money post-petition or if there is a pattern of declining assets and substantial continuing losses. Gateway, 374 B.R. 563-4. Negative cash flow and an inability to pay post-petition expenses as they come due may constitute diminution of the estate under § 1112(b)(4). In re AdBrite Corp., 290 B.R. 209, 215 (Bankr. S.D. N.Y. 2003).

14. The estate has steadily diminished during the pendency of this case. Even though its October 2010 cash position of $53,578 was its strongest to date, the Debtor has incurred nearly half a million dollars in post-petition liabilities. The Debtor owes $96,744 alone in post-petition tax liabilities. Furthermore, its cash flow has been erratic, ranging from a high of $53,578 in October 2010 to a low of negative $4,858 in August 2010.

15. There is little likelihood of reorganization. The Debtor has been in bankruptcy for nearly a year but has not yet proposed a plan of reorganization. It is particularly telling that only one of its affiliates, PMP II, LLC, has confirmed a plan of reorganization. In three cases, confirmation has been denied. Given that its reorganization is dependent on the reorganization of its affiliates, the Debtor does not appear able to reorganize.

Cause exists to convert this case for gross mismanagement

16. Cause exists to convert this case to one under chapter 7 as there has been gross mismanagement of the estate. See 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(4)(B). Borrowing post-petition funds without prior court approval may constitute gross mismanagement for purposes of § 1112(b). In re Gateway Access Solutions, Inc., 374 B.R. 556, 566 (Bankr. M.D. Pa. 2007).

17. Since filing, Peter Morris has loaned $411,069 to the Debtor without a court order. Furthermore, the Debtor has paid $22,100 of this post-petition loan back to Mr. Morris without court order.

Cause exists to convert this case for failure to pay taxes

18. Cause exists to convert this case to one under chapter 7 because the Debtor has not timely paid taxes owed after the date of the order for relief. See 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(4)(I). The Debtor owes $96,744 in post-petition tax liabilities as of October 31, 2010. Most of this is federal taxes.

For these reasons, the United States Trustee requests the Court to convert this case to chapter 7. The United States Trustee requests any other relief to which he is entitled.
